

Learning outcomes

in history museums

To cite this list: Mark Schep, Carla van Boxtel & Julia Noordegraaf (2017). Learning outcomes in a history museum. Amsterdam: University of Amsterdam.

Category	Learning outcome
	The pupil
Affective	1 has a pleasurable experience during the guided tour.
Attitudes and Values	2 develops curiosity about and interest in history. 3 develops tolerance towards other perspectives, cultures and times.
Identity	4 learns about himself, others and the world.
Knowledge and Understanding	5 develops the awareness that there is evidence of historical events. 6 acquires knowledge of historical facts, concepts, people, developments, and events. 7 acquires insight into the ways in which people in the present address the past.
Skills	8 develops historical empathy. 9 learns to critically analyze representations and stories of the past. 10 learns to ask historical questions. 11 learns to place objects and events in a historical context. 12 learns to connect the past, the present and the future.